

US Army Corps of Engineers
Transatlantic Programs Center

June 22, 2007

Team Members Acknowledged and praised during Annual Awards Ceremony

The Transatlantic Programs Center honored its own during an annual awards ceremony June 22.

“We are a team and it takes all of us on both sides of the Atlantic to get our job done,” Col. Lawrence Sansone, Transatlantic Programs Center commander said to the team members assembled in the headquarters for the ceremony.

“While what we do isn’t easy, it is vitally important to our nation, our military and our customers throughout the region,” he said. “We continue to serve our customers with our best efforts. They have come to expect the top-flight service that TAC delivers.”

The prestigious seven honorary awards presented during the ceremony included:

Employee of the Year, Elizabeth Cain
Field Employee of the Year, David Greenwood
Supervisor of the Year, Carolyn Stamey
Technical Services Award, Richard Byers
Customer Care Award, Jamal Fakhouri
Support Services Award, Barbara Hake
Make a Difference Award, Yolanda Brown

Forty-seven employees received recognition for a total of more than 1100 years of federal service. In addition, 105 Unsung Hero awards were presented. This award allows employees to recognize their coworkers for specific acts and accomplishments.

The Transatlantic Programs Center, headquartered in Winchester, is responsible for most Corps of Engineers’ operations in the Middle East and Africa. The Center provides engineering services in other regions as needed, and it provides back-up assistance to Corps organizations in Iraq and Afghanistan. The Center’s missions include designing and constructing facilities for use by U.S. forces and performing engineering activities for other U.S. government and foreign agencies.